DISCOVER

Chamber White Papers

Access insider's information specific to the needs of your industry, prepared by U.S. Chamber policy experts.

Institute for Organization Management

Institute, a four-year course of study, focuses on the fundamentals of association management. It is an excellent training platform for association staff and executives. Enroll at the reduced member price for this professional development program.

SmartBrief

This weekly e-newsletter includes concise news for association leaders, executive-level job listings, and added benefits for members. Sign up anyone at your organization at no additional cost.

Speakers Bureau

Gain access to experts on important topics to business owners. Bring in leading policymakers, trendsetters, and management specialists for your meetings (based on availability).

uschamber.com

This monthly print publication keeps readers up to date on legislation that affects their businesses. U.S. Chamber members can reprint articles free of charge.

INFLUENCE

Advocacy

The U.S. Chamber is actively engaged in advancing legislative priorities in areas such as health care, legal reform, energy, trade, and education.

Invitations to Political Meet and Greets

Members are invited to meet with political candidates — incumbents and challengers — in a small group setting.

Trade Leadership Programs

Participate in programs designed to educate your business and local leaders on the benefits of international trade for your organization. Build a strong advocacy group in favor of pro-business trade policy.

VoteForBusiness

Visit www.VoteForBusiness.com. Here you can see which issues are hot, what the Chamber thinks, and how to get the business community involved. A customized Web site to help you engage your members in policy issues is included in your membership.

Washington Issue Briefings

Receive two briefings annually on issues important to your association. U.S. Chamber specialists cover more than 300 business issues.

GROW

Federation Partnership

Sign on to give your small business members a U.S. Chamber membership. Use these added benefits as a powerful recruitment and retention tool. For eligibility information call 202-463-5859.
