

 NIMBY

 NOPE

 BANANA

 CAVE

The NIMBYs (Not In My Back Yard) want to stop coal plants. NOPEs (Not On Planet Earth) are stopping natural gas refineries. BANANAs (Build Absolutely Nothing Anywhere Near Anything) won't let you build nuclear plants or transmission lines. And now the CAVE people (Citizens Against Virtually Everything) are stopping renewables.

If we continue to let the NIMBYs, NOPEs, BANANAs and CAVE people set our energy agenda, the lights will be shut off—permanently. Visit the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Project No Project website to learn more about this growing problem and share your story. The Chamber urges Congress to streamline the siting and permitting processes for low-emissions energy and transmission projects.
