U.S. Chamber of Commerce

April 20, 2020

The Honorable Chad F. Wolf
Acting Secretary
U.S. Department of Homeland Security
3801 Nebraska Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20528

Dear Acting Secretary Wolf:

Employers all across America are facing unprecedented challenges during this pandemic. And those employers that supplement their U.S. workforce with seasonal H-2B guest workers are facing additional challenges in ensuring they can keep their businesses open. These challenges are directly related to petition adjudication policies in effect at the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) and can be addressed immediately to provide a significant economic benefit to these small businesses.

At a time when many American businesses are shuttered and millions of people are confined to their homes in an effort to fight the pandemic, we ask for your assistance in helping to ensure those businesses that are able to continue to operate have the necessary labor to do so. We also want to protect the jobs of the full-time, year-round American workers, workers who rely on the H-2B workers to sustain their jobs.

H-2B employers typically operate on a short seasonal basis, such as seafood processors and fishery labor whom have been deemed critical infrastructure and that have only a small amount of time in which to process their catch during state-mandated harvest windows. H-2B employers also include those who provide essential infrastructure services such as vegetation removal along utility lines to reduce the threat of fire and ensure electrical reliability.

While many seasonal industries, such as hospitality and seasonal event services, that typically rely on H-2B workers to supplement their US workforce are negatively impacted by the COVID-19 prevention policies and will not utilize their surge workforce in the near term, others continue to need the supplemental labor to support landscape, forestry, conservation, seafood processing and other essential services that are identified in the Department's March 28 "Advisory Memorandum on Identification of Essential Critical Infrastructure Workers During Covid-19 Response." And they need seasonal workers to immediately fulfill their contractual obligations. The challenges of the H-2B cap result in employers with approved petitions who do not need the workers and employers who need the workers but have no ability to seek a petition or obtain transfer of workers already in the country in a timely manner.

On March 26th, the State Department noted that H-2 visas are “essential to the economy and food security of the United States,” and announced that in consultation with DHS, it was expanding the categories of H-2 visa applicants that could be adjudicated without the need for an in-person interview in order to improve processing. At the same time, USCIS suspended the 15-day premium processing for all visa petitions, which significantly impacts H-2B as stated regular processing times can be as long as three months. We understand H-2A petitions are processed by USCIS on an expedited basis (without requesting premium processing) and we understand this special treatment for H-2A continues during the pandemic. As many Coalition members also employ H-2A workers, we very much appreciate the efforts by the State Department and DHS to prioritize H-2A petitions and workers. We believe DHS and USCIS should take similar actions to also ensure prompt processing of H-2B petitions. USCIS should also ensure prompt access to unused visas by capped out employers who have a continued need and should allow prompt transfer of H-2 workers already in the country to both approved and capped out H-2 employers. Toward that end, we request your immediate consideration of the following:

- Reinstating premium processing for H-2B petitions. Given that the State Department has declared that H-2 visas are essential to the economy, H-2A and H-2B petitions should receive similar treatment.
- If premium processing is not reinstated, H-2B petitions should be afforded the same expedited processing treatment during the pandemic that H-2A petitions receive.
- Permit H-2B workers who have transferred from another employer to begin work after the employer files the transfer petition and before it is approved.
- Immediately audit the number of H-2B visas granted by the State Department and visa applications pending to reassess the visa cap.
- Immediately permit transfers of workers in country and extensions of stay to H-2 employers and workers based on approved labor certifications on an emergency basis thus eliminating the need for I-129 adjudication.
- If the flexible transfer option is not feasible, immediately open and prioritize adjudication of petitions by capped out H-2B employers for transfers and unused visas.
- In the event economic activity rebounds swiftly, as the President has assured, and the certified need for H-2B workers is realized, quickly allocate supplemental visas to those employers with previously approved petitions that voluntarily transferred their workers to a fellow employer in need or underutilized the visa positions approved.

If USCIS does not resume prompt adjudication of H-2B petitions and reallocate unused visas, many businesses that need seasonal H-2B workers to supplement their U.S. workforce will be dramatically understaffed and would suffer irreparable economic harm.

We thank you for your attention to this matter and for your service to the country during these difficult times.

Sincerely,
