

Jennings Imel

Executive Director, Western Regional Office Congressional and Public Affairs Division, U.S. Chamber of Commerce

Jennings Imel is executive director of the Western Region in the Congressional and Public Affairs Division at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. The office is responsible for legislative and political grassroots activities in Arizona, California, Hawaii, Nevada, and Utah, and in support of the Chamber's national public policy goals.

Before joining the Chamber in 2013, Jennings worked in Washington, D.C., at the U.S. Association of Former Members of Congress and at the public affairs firm Mercury, Clark & Weinstock. Earlier, he worked in the California State Assembly. Jennings also managed and worked on several successful congressional and state legislative campaigns, mostly in Southern California.

Jennings received a master's degree in international affairs from The George Washington University and bachelor's degrees in political science and German from the University of California, Riverside.
