

CONTRACTORS FOCUS ON RESILIENCY

Three-quarters of general contractors have experienced schedule delays due to extreme weather events. Owners and architects rank as most influential in making projects resilient, suggesting it be prioritized early in the project timeline. Contractors are motivated to learn more about resilience so they gain a competitive advantage and have a chance to win more work.

EXPERIENCED SCHEDULE DELAYS DUE TO EXTREME WEATHER EVENTS:

75% General Contractors [GCs]
56% Trade Contractors

MOST INFLUENTIAL IN MAKING PROJECTS RESILIENT:

WORKED ON A RESILIENT PROJECT IN THE LAST THREE YEARS:

TOP DRIVERS FOR LEARNING MORE ABOUT RESILIENCE:

The USG Corporation + U.S. Chamber of Commerce Commercial Construction Index [CCI] is a quarterly economic index designed to gauge the outlook for and resulting confidence in the commercial construction industry. Recognizing a need to highlight the important contributions of this sector to the nation's economy, USG Corporation and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce partnered to produce this first-of-its-kind index. Each quarter, contractors across the country are surveyed in order to better understand their levels of confidence in the industry and top-of-mind concerns. Learn more at www.commercialconstructionindex.com.