"I have always had a particular interest in working with the treatment of substance use disorders. I learned early in my career that striking a balance between lived experience and a solid education in counseling psychology was paramount. Additionally, through the guidance I have received from colleagues and managers, I have been fortunate enough to follow my passion for working with this population throughout the past several decades in a number of different roles and capacities in what I consider to be my true vocation.

As many clinicians can attest, learning the business acumen required to engage in organizational strategic planning and subsequent implementation has been a steep but very rewarding experience. Through a blend of clinical expertise and comprehensive understanding of managed healthcare, I have been able to work effectively with multidisciplinary teams to consistently drive for excellence in whichever way the winds of change may blow.

In addition to my current position supporting the Substance Use Disorder strategy at Anthem, Inc. I have been teaching healthcare information technology to undergraduate students at my Alma Mater and sitting on the Board of Directors for a local non-profit peer-recovery organization in Moorhead, Minnesota."
