

Exporters For Ex-Im Fly-In

Next Steps

After registering for the Fly-In there are important next steps that you should follow to prepare for and finalize your trip to Washington, D.C. for the Fly-In on February 24-25, 2015.

Communicating with the Fly-In Team

After registering for the Fly-In, we recommend that you stay in touch with the organization that invited you to the event for additional information and materials.

If you have questions regarding event logistics or travel and lodging, please email emily@exportersforexim.org.

Making Travel Arrangements

We recommend booking your transportation to Washington, D.C. as soon as possible. Below is a list of airports and other public transportation hubs for your reference.

By Air

- Reagan National Airport (Recommended)
- Dulles International Airport
- Baltimore-Washington International Airport

Reagan National Airport or Dulles International Airport are the closest airports to Washington, D.C. The Reagan National Airport is connected to the D.C. metro, which will take you into downtown D.C. If you arrive at Dulles International Airport, you will need to take the 5A bus from the terminal to L'Enfant Metro station, which connects to several metro lines to downtown. The bus takes approximately 40 minutes to get into D.C. For metro lines, please consult a D.C. metro map. There are taxi cabs available at both airports as well.

By Rail

If you are arriving by AmTrak or Marc Trains, please come into Union Station. Union Station is also connected to the red metro line into downtown D.C.

- Union Station
 - 50 Massachusetts Avenue NE
 - Union Station
 - Washington, DC 20002

By Bus/Car

If you are arriving by bus, you will also enter Union Station and will be able to access the metro and other forms of public transportation.

 Transportation to and from Hill meetings will be arranged for you by the Fly-In Team.

Booking your hotel room

We have a room block at the Marriott Renaissance in Washington, D.C. The rooms are available at a discounted rate of $289.00 (plus tax) per night. We recommend reserving at room at the Renaissance at your earliest convenience as there are a limited number of rooms secured in the block. All Fly-In related events, with the exception of the Hill meetings, will be held at the Renaissance (see agenda for details).

The hotel deadline for registration is February 11.

Marriott Renaissance
999 9th St NW
Washington, D.C., 20001

Preparing for Hill Meetings

Within 1-2 weeks you will be contacted to begin arranging your meetings with Members of Congress. Our team here in Washington will be conducting the outreach to Members for these meetings. Our communications with you will help us to determine the best Members for you to meet with for maximum impact. During these calls, we will be available to answer any questions you may have involving your meetings with Members of Congress.

February Preparation

Prior to the Fly-In, we will be organizing opportunities for participants to learn best practices on preparing for and executing meetings with Members of Congress. In addition, there will be a legislative and regulatory briefing as well as an overview of key message points on Tuesday, February 24, 2015.
