- Passion: We are passionate about our work and the success of our members and their businesses.
- Teamwork: We are a team and collaborate to deliver outstanding results for our members.
- Familia: We cherish our common heritage and traditions, and we extend a warm welcome to everyone as one of our own familia.

History

The Latin American Chamber of Commerce of Charlotte started in Charlotte in 1995 as “Las Americas Business Council” within the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce thanks to a group of determined and forward-thinking Latino professionals and entrepreneurs. The LACCC was chartered by the State of North Carolina as a separate chamber in 2001 and began connecting and empowering the Latino and non-Latino business community in Charlotte. Permanent offices were established in 2006 with 13 board members representing corporations, entrepreneurs and professionals from the Charlotte region. A formal President/CEO was hired in November 2010 to create an effective platform of programs and services that would help grow and support the Latino business community in the region after the economic downturn. The LACCC is currently approximately 400 members strong. The LACCC is a member of the United States Hispanic Chamber of Commerce (USHCC). The Opportunity Mecklenburg County is experiencing a boom in its Latinx population. Based on census data, the county’s Hispanic population increased by 36% from 2010 through the end of 2019. Hispanic people now comprise 13.8% of the county’s 1.1 million residents. It is a growth spurt mirrored in other areas of the state which now boasts more than 1 million Hispanic residents or nearly one in ten North Carolinians.

This growth comes with it an opportunity to further develop the Charlotte region’s reputation as a city that welcomes and wants to do business with Latinx companies. The Latin American Chamber of Commerce of Charlotte plays a critical role in continuing to attract entrepreneurs, small businesses and corporate headquarters attracted to the region’s rich cultural diversity.
