The American Chamber of Commerce in China (AmCham China), with support of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, welcome you to attend a conference addressing changes in China’s operating environment, its evolving role in the global economy, and the implications for future US policy. China-based business leaders from AmCham China will engage in discussions with Washington-based policy experts on a variety of key issues, including:

- China’s economic reforms and changing growth model
- The outlook for American business
- Challenges posed by market access barriers and industrial policies
- Strategic opportunities in China and globally
- Policy responses

Audience participation in the discussions will be welcomed.
